INTRODUCTION

1
2 1. This lawsuit seeks to enjoin Defendants’ ongoing pattern and practice
3 of flouting the Constitution and federal law, including their open and deliberate 4 reliance on racial profiling of persons of apparent Latino ethnicity, during 5 immigration raids in the Los Angeles area.

6 2. Since early June 2025, this District has been under siege. Masked 7 federal agents, often dressed in military-style clothing, have, in the name of 8 enforcing the nation’s immigration laws, conducted indiscriminate operations 9 terrorizing Latino communities across the District, flooding street corners, bus stops, 10 parking lots, agricultural sites, day laborer corners, and other places, setting up 11 checkpoints, and entering businesses, interrogating residents as they are working, 12 looking for work, or otherwise trying to go about their daily lives, and taking people 13 away.

14 3. The raids in this District follow a common, systematic pattern.
15 Individuals with brown skin are approached or pulled aside by unidentified federal 16 agents, suddenly and with a show of force, and made to answer questions about who 17 they are and where they are from. If they hesitate, attempt to leave, or do not answer 18 the questions to the satisfaction of the agents, they are detained, sometimes tackled, 19 handcuffed, and/or taken into custody. In these interactions, agents typically have no 20 prior information about the individual and no warrant of any kind. If agents make an 21 arrest, contrary to federal law, they do not make any determination of whether a 22 person poses a risk of flight before a warrant can be obtained. Also contrary to 23 federal law, the agents do not identify themselves or explain why the individual is 24 being arrested.

25 4. Defendants’ race-based crackdown cannot be reconciled with the 26 Supreme Court’s rejection of the use of race as a “negative” in decisionmaking. See, 27 e.g., Students for Fair Admissions, Inc. v. President & Fellows of Harvard Coll.,
28 600 U.S. 181, 218 (2023). Casting persons of Latino appearance as presumptively

1 unauthorized not only “stigmatize[s]” them “by reason of their membership in a 2 racial group,” but also “appeal[s] to” and perpetuates “noxious” stereotypes that 3 treat individuals as the product of their race. Shaw v. Reno, 509 U.S. 630, 643
4 (1993); Buck v. Davis, 580 U.S. 100, 121 (2017). It violates what the Supreme Court 5 has called the Constitution’s “simple command that the Government must treat 6 citizens as individuals, not as simply components of a racial . . . class.” Parents
7 Involved in Cmty. Schs. v. Seattle Sch. Dist. No. 1, 551 U.S. 701, 730 (2007)
8 (quoting Miller v. Johnson, 515 U.S. 900, 911 (1995)). “Enforcing” immigration 9 law is no exception. Trump v. Illinois, 146 S. Ct. 432, 436 n.4 (2025) (Kavanaugh, 10 J., concurring) (acknowledging “the basic constitutional rule[]” that “officers must 11 not make interior immigration stops or arrests based on race or ethnicity”).

12 5. Defendants’ raids and targeting of individuals based on apparent Latino 13 ethnicity—regardless of their actual immigration status—has materially constrained 14 and fundamentally disrupted the daily life of Latino communities.¹ Surges of federal 15 agents have deterred people across the District from engaging in everyday activities, 16 some constitutionally protected, such as going to work, seeking essential medical 17 care, buying groceries, taking their children to school, attending religious services, 18 patronizing businesses, and exercising their right to protest.² When Latino residents 19 do go out, the threat of unlawful detention has driven them to preemptively carry 20 their passports or other documentation on their persons. The harm goes much deeper
23
24

25 ¹ E.g., Brittny Mejia, ‘Scared to be brown’: California residents fearful amid 26 immigration raids, L.A. Times (June 25, 2025), https://www.latimes.com/california/story/2025-06-25/california-residents-fearful-amid-immigration-raids-youre-scared-to-be-brown.

27 ² E.g., Reis Thebault et al., Documented or not, Latinos are changing habits during 28 ICE crackdown, Wash. Post (Nov. 1, 2025), <https://www.washingtonpost.com/nation/2025/11/01/ice-latinos-race-profiling/>.

1 than economic loss, as experts across the fields of neuroscience, public health, and 2 sociology confirm.³

3 6. Further, apparently to accommodate the sharp rise in arrests, the 4 government has resorted to keeping individuals at what is supposed to be a short-5 term processing center and ICE basement holding area in downtown Los Angeles, 6 known as “B-18,” often for days. In these dungeon-like facilities, conditions are 7 deplorable and unconstitutional. The government has also unlawfully deprived those 8 arrested of access to counsel. Under such conditions, some of those arrested are 9 pressured into accepting deportation. The government is aware that its actions are 10 unconstitutional and contrary to officers’ training, but deliberately persists because 11 this system allows it to coerce removals, avoid public accountability, and 12 ultimately—given the limited bed space at longer-term detention facilities in the 13 area—keep arrest numbers high.

14 7. Federal immigration enforcement is constrained by law. But since the 15 federal government began its mass immigration enforcement operations in this 16 District on June 6, 2025, all of these legal requirements have given way to one 17 overriding consideration: “numbers, pure numbers. Quantity over quality.”⁴ The 18 administration has foregone internal accountability, slashed training, and routinely 19 flouted court orders affecting the rights of immigrants.

20 8. In late May, the White House Deputy Chief of Staff Stephen Miller 21 directed high-level officials in the Department of Homeland Security to shift from 22 targeted operations to indiscriminate raids, or in the words of Miller, “just go out 23 there and arrest [unauthorized noncitizens]” by rounding up people in public spaces 24

25 ³ E.g., Myriam Vidal Valero, U.S. immigration policy: Mental health impacts of 26 increased detentions and deportations, Am. Psych. Ass’n Monitor on Psych. (Sept.
1, 2025).

27 ⁴ Jennie Taer, Trump admin’s 3,000 ICE arrests per day quota is taking focus off
28 criminals and ‘killing morale’: insiders, New York Post (June 17, 2025), <https://nypost.com/2025/06/17/us-news/trump-admins-3000-ice-arrests-per-day-quota-is-taking-focus-off-criminals-and-killing-morale-insiders/>.

1 like “Home Depot” and “7-Eleven” convenience stores.⁵ Then, on the day after the 2 Los Angeles area crackdown started, Miller posted on X regarding the crackdown:
3 “Deport the invaders, or surrender to the insurrection. These are the choices.”⁶ 4 Speaking to a crowd of agents gathered to carry out this charge, Defendant and then-5 Border Patrol commander-in-charge Bovino shouted: “It’s f—ing ours! It’s our f—6 ing city!”⁷

7 9. This comprehensive scheme has been guised as a crackdown on the 8 “worst of the worst.”⁸ But the preponderance of individuals stopped and arrested in 9 the raids have not been targeted in any meaningful sense of the word at all, except 10 on the basis of their skin color and occupation.⁹ Those who have borne the brunt of 11 Defendants’ heavy-handed pattern of unlawful conduct include day laborers, car 12 wash workers, farm workers, street vendors, service workers, caregivers and others 13 who form the lifeblood of communities across Southern California.

14 10. Defendants’ dragnet is sweeping by design. Thousands of residents in 15 the District have already been impacted, including a shocking (though hardly 16 surprising) number of U.S. citizens and individuals lawfully present in the country.
17 According to the government, the broader Defendants cast their dragnet and the 1 more individuals subject to their agents' brutality, the less any particular individual 2 can challenge their unlawful conduct. But that is not the law.

3 11. Enough is enough. Los Angeles has endured a months-long assault on 4 residents' bodily security, freedom of movement, and the right to be free from 5 abuses perpetrated against them by their own government. Plaintiffs in this case 6 include five individuals and three membership organizations, the Los Angeles 7 Worker Center Network, United Farm Workers, and the Coalition for Humane 8 Immigrant Rights (together, the "Stop/Arrest Plaintiffs"), who, on behalf of 9 themselves and others similarly situated, bring claims challenging Defendants' 10 unlawful stop and arrest practices. Plaintiffs also include the Immigrant Defenders 11 Law Center, who, alongside the Coalition for Humane Immigrant Rights (together, 12 the "Access/Detention Plaintiffs"), seek to challenge Defendants' denial of access to 13 counsel and illegal conditions of confinement at B-18. Despite the fear and risks 14 associated with speaking publicly, they are taking courageous action to enforce the 15 rule of law. They seek declaratory and injunctive relief as well as relief under the 16 Administrative Procedure Act (APA).

17 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

18 12. Jurisdiction is proper and relief is available pursuant to 28 U.S.C.
19 § 1331 (federal question), 5 U.S.C. §§ 702 and 706 (Administrative Procedure Act), 20 28 U.S.C. § 2241 (federal habeas statute), U.S. Const. art. I, § 9 (Suspension 21 Clause), 28 U.S.C. § 1651 (All Writs Act), 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201-02 (Declaratory 22 Judgment Act), and Fed. R. Civ. P. 65 (injunctive relief).

24 Domestic & Foreign Com. Corp., 337 U.S. 682, 689–90 (1949); The Presbyterian 25 Church (U.S.A.) v. United States, 870 F.2d 518, 526 (9th Cir. 1989).

26 14. Venue is proper under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(e)(1) because Defendants are 27 officers or employees of the United States and at least one Plaintiff resides in this 28

1 District; a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claims 2 occurred in this District; and/or because a Defendant resides in this District.

3 PARTIES

4 15. Plaintiff-Petitioner Pedro Vasquez Perdomo is a resident of 5 Pasadena, California who was arrested at a bus stop as he was waiting to be picked 6 up for a job on June 18, 2025. He filed this action while detained at B-18. Because 7 of his Latino ethnicity and identity as a day laborer, he fears being subject to a 8 future stop by federal agents without reasonable suspicion.

9 16. Plaintiff-Petitioner Carlos Alexander Osorto is a resident of 10 Pasadena, California who was arrested at a bus stop as he was waiting to be picked 11 up for a job on June 18, 2025. He filed this action while detained at B-18. Because 12 of his Latino ethnicity and identity as a day laborer, he fears being subject to a 13 future stop by federal agents without reasonable suspicion.

14 17. Plaintiff-Petitioner Isaac Villegas Molina is a resident of Pasadena, 15 California who was arrested at a bus stop as he was waiting to be picked up for a job 16 on June 18, 2025. He filed this action while detained at B-18. Because of his Latino 17 ethnicity and identity as a day laborer, he fears being subject to a future stop by 18 federal agents without reasonable suspicion.

19 18. Plaintiff Jorge Hernandez Viramontes is a resident of Baldwin Park, 20 California. He works at a car wash in Whittier, California, that has been visited 21 multiple times by immigration agents, including on June 18, 2025, when he was 22 questioned and detained by agents despite informing them he is a U.S. citizen. He 23 fears being subjected to similar actions again on the basis of his Latino ethnicity and 24 accent.

25 19. Plaintiff Jason Brian Gavidia is a resident of East Los Angeles, 26 California. He was stopped and questioned by immigration agents at a tow yard in 27 Los Angeles County on June 12, 2025, despite explaining multiple times that he is a 28 U.S. Citizen. Agents pushed him against the metal gated fence, put his hands behind

1 his back, and twisted his arm. He was finally let go, but was terrified by this 2 experience and fears being subjected to similar actions again on the basis of his 3 Latino ethnicity.

4 20. Plaintiff Los Angeles Worker Center Network (LAWCN) is a multi-5 racial, multi-ethnic, and multi-industry organization comprised of worker centers 6 and labor organizations that work together to address injustices faced by low-wage 7 workers in the greater Los Angeles area, including immigrant and non-English
8 speaking workers. LAWCN’s worker center members include the CLEAN Carwash 9 Worker Center, the Garment Worker Center, the Koreatown Immigrant Workers 10 Alliance, the Los Angeles Black Worker Center, the Pilipino Workers Center, and 11 the Warehouse Worker Resource Center. These worker center members in turn have 12 members, including noncitizens with legal status and U.S. citizens, who have been 13 subjected to and are at risk of being subjected in the future to the stop and arrest 14 policies and practices challenged in this case.

15 21. Plaintiff United Farm Workers (UFW) is the largest farm worker 16 union in the country with approximately 10,000 members, with more members in 17 California than in any other state. UFW aims to improve the lives, wages, and 18 working conditions of agricultural workers and their families, including by 19 advocating for immigration reform and immigrants’ rights. UFW’s members in 20 California work at agricultural sites as well as non-agricultural sites within the 21 District. UFW has members, including noncitizens with legal status and U.S.
22 citizens, who have been, and are at risk of being, subjected in the future to the stop 23 and arrest policies and practices challenged in this case.

24 22. Plaintiff Coalition for Humane Immigrant Rights (CHIRLA) is a 25 nonprofit organization with its principal place of business in Los Angeles, 26 California. CHIRLA was founded in 1986 to advance the human and civil rights of 27 immigrants and refugees. Since then, CHIRLA has become one of the largest and 28 most effective advocates for immigrant rights, organizing, educating and defending

1 immigrants and refugees in the streets, in the courts, and in the halls of power. As a 2 membership organization, CHIRLA has approximately 50,000 members across 3 California, including both U.S. citizens and noncitizens of varying immigration 4 status. CHIRLA has members in every county in the District. CHIRLA's staff also 5 includes attorneys and Department of Justice (DOJ) accredited representatives who 6 provide pro bono legal services to clients in removal proceedings, including those 7 who are detained. Additionally, CHIRLA coordinates the Los Angeles Rapid 8 Response Network (LARRN) and educates its membership as well as the broader 9 community through know-your-rights programming, workshops, social media, and 10 educational literature about a variety of social services and benefits, including 11 immigration law, financial literacy, workers' rights, and civic engagement.

12 23. Plaintiff Immigrant Defenders Law Center (ImmDef) is a nonprofit 13 organization with its principal place of business in Los Angeles, California. Besides 14 Los Angeles, ImmDef has offices in Riverside, Santa Ana, and San Diego, 15 California, and works across the U.S.-Mexico border in Tijuana. ImmDef was 16 founded in 2015 to protect the due process rights of immigrants facing deportation.
17 At its founding, ImmDef was focused on ensuring that every immigrant before the 18 immigration court had a lawyer by their side. In the years that followed, ImmDef 19 expanded its mission beyond helping individuals facing deportation to also work 20 towards systemic change that reimagines a more just immigration system. ImmDef 21 provides deportation defense, legal representation, legal education, and social 22 services to detained and non-detained children and adults.

23 24. Defendant Kristi Noem is the Secretary of the Department of 24 Homeland Security (DHS), which is responsible for administering and enforcing the 25 nation's immigration laws pursuant to 8 U.S.C. § 1103(a). In this role, she oversees 26 component agencies such as ICE and U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP).
27 Defendant Noem is sued in her official capacity.

1 25. Defendant Todd M. Lyons is the Acting Director of U.S. Immigration 2 and Customs Enforcement (ICE), an agency of the United States and a division of 3 DHS. ICE’s mission includes the enforcement of criminal and civil laws related to 4 immigration. Among other things, ICE is responsible for the stops, arrests, and 5 custody of individuals believed to be in violation of civil immigration law.
6 Defendant Lyons is sued in his official capacity.

7 26. Defendant Rodney S. Scott is the Commissioner of CBP, the agency
8 within DHS that is responsible for enforcing immigration laws at or close to the U.S.
9 border. In that capacity, Defendant Scott has direct authority over all CBP policies, 10 procedures, and practices related to stops, arrests, and detention. Defendant Scott is 11 sued in his official capacity.

12 27. Defendant Michael W. Banks is Chief of the U.S. Border Patrol. In 13 that capacity, Defendant Banks has direct authority over all Border Patrol policies, 14 procedures, and practices related to stops, arrests, and detention. Defendant Banks is 15 sued in his official capacity.

16 28. Defendant Kash Patel is Director of the U.S. Federal Bureau of 17 Investigation (FBI). In that capacity, Defendant Patel is responsible for the direction 18 and oversight of all operations of the FBI. Defendant Patel is sued in his official 19 capacity.

20 29. Defendant Pam Bondi is the U.S. Attorney General. In that capacity, 21 Defendant Bondi is head of the Department of Justice (DOJ) and is responsible for 22 the direction and oversight of all operations of the DOJ, including DOJ law 23 enforcement agencies such as the FBI, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and 24 Explosives (ATF), and the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA). Defendant 25 Bondi is sued in her official capacity.

26 30. Defendant Jaime Rios is the Acting Field Office Director for the Los 27 Angeles Field Office of ICE. In that capacity, Defendant Rios is responsible for the 28 supervision of personnel within ICE’s Enforcement and Removal Operations (ERO)

1 Los Angeles and surrounding counties, creating an illegal detention and deportation 2 dragnet that shows no signs of ceasing.

3 A. Suspicionless Stops Based on Racial Profiling

4 37. The constitutional, statutory, and regulatory framework is clear about 5 the practices immigration officers must follow. The Fourth Amendment protects 6 “[t]he right of the people to be secure in their persons . . . against unreasonable 7 searches and seizures.” U.S. Const. amend. IV. “Except at the border and its 8 functional equivalents,” immigration agents may stop individuals in public only 9 after identifying “specific articulable facts, together with rational inferences from 10 those facts, that reasonably warrant suspicion” of a violation of immigration law.
11 United States v. Brignoni-Ponce, 422 U.S. 873, 884 (1975); Benitez-Mendez v.
12 I.N.S., 752 F.2d 1309, 1311 (9th Cir. 1983), amended, 760 F.2d 907 (9th Cir. 1983); 13 see also 8 C.F.R. § 287.8(b)(2). Reasonable suspicion cannot be based “on broad 14 profiles which cast suspicion on entire categories of people without any 15 individualized suspicion of the particular person to be stopped.” United States v.
16 Rodriguez- Sanchez, 23 F.3d 1488, 1492 (9th Cir. 1994).

17 38. Immigration officials in Southern California are not abiding by this 18 framework.

19 39. One of the clearest patterns that have emerged in the raids in Southern 20 California has been stops and interrogations based on nothing but broad profiles, 21 including on the basis of apparent race and ethnicity.¹⁰ On information and belief, 22 Defendants have adopted a policy and practice of conducting immigration 23 operations in violation of their obligation to stop individuals in public only if there is 24 reasonable suspicion.

1 40. As often happens when agencies adopt a pattern and practice of racial 2 profiling, among those most vulnerable have been individuals whose work makes 3 them a visible target in public spaces.

4 41. Day laborer pickup locations have become central sites of immigration
5 enforcement.¹¹ On June 6, 2025, federal agents detained multiple day laborers
6 outside of the Westlake Home Depot.¹² In the following days, similar raids occurred

4 42. Car wash workers have also been heavily impacted. Car washes, in 5 which workers typically wash, dry, and detail vehicles outdoors, have been hit 6 across Southern California, including more than once. Indeed, during the initial days 7 of the raids, between June 7, 2025, and June 11, 2025, federal agents raided at least

2 Between Monday, June 9, 2025, and June 13, 2025, at least 43 people were detained

4 44. The manner in which the foregoing raids have been conducted bears no 5 hallmarks of reasonable suspicion: there are no indicia that agents had any specific 6 articulable facts sufficient to justify a seizure. Instead, those who appear to be non-7 white have been categorically stopped, sometimes without even being asked for

1 agents surrounded the man and prevented him from walking away before they knew 2 who he was. There were several people at nearby residences who appeared 3 Caucasian and were also working outside in their yards, but on information and

1 Defendants’ practices have led to numerous U.S. citizens who work, reside, or just 2 happen to be in neighborhoods with large numbers of people of color also getting 3 swept up.

4 51. On June 14, 2025, Heidi Plummer, a U.S. citizen, was walking through 5 a park in Santa Ana when she got caught up in an immigration raid occurring there.
6 She was handcuffed, placed in a vehicle with others, and taken to an ICE station in 7 Santa Ana where she was kept for an hour and a half before being released.⁴⁷

8 52. Additionally, Andrea Velez, a U.S. citizen, was being dropped off at 9 work in downtown Los Angeles when federal agents grabbed her without 10 explanation. Her mother, who witnessed the incident, described it as looking like 11 “they’re kidnapping [her].” Witnesses said agents never asked Andrea for 12 identification. No justification was provided. Her mother remarked, “the only thing 13 wrong with her . . . was the color of her skin.”⁴⁸

14 B. A Show of Force: Intimidation, Violence, and Anonymity

15 53. While the government may describe the encounters agents and officers 16 are having with individuals as consensual, they are far from that. A stop, even brief, 17 must be supported by reasonable suspicion if “a reasonable person would [believe] 18 that he was not free to leave.” See United States v. Mendenhall, 446 U.S. 544, 554 19 (1980).

20 54. In a typical encounter, agents and officers approach suddenly and in 21 large numbers. Typically dressed in military style or SWAT clothing, heavily armed 22 with weapons displayed, and masked, their vests may display only a generic 23 “POLICE” patch (if they display anything at all). For example, an estimated 60 ICE

14 55. This grossly disproportionate display of force is enough to make any 15 person fear for their safety and feel compelled to comply. That is the intent.
16 Moreover, agents typically position themselves around individuals, aggressively 17 engage them, and/or bark commands, forcing individuals to answer their questions 18 no matter their right and desire to do otherwise.

19 56. When individuals have tried to avoid an encounter with agents and 20 officers, they have been chased and pushed to the ground, sometimes even beaten, 21 and then taken away. Such seizures look less like lawful arrests and more like 22 brazen, midday kidnappings.

23 57. These incidents have been widely reported in the news, further 24 contributing to the climate of intimidation and fear.⁵⁰

1 58. For example, in Westchester on June 8, 2025, several armed agents in 4 had weapons drawn so no one could get near to help him.”⁵²

5 59. At a hand car wash in Culver City also on June 8, 2025, agents dressed 6 in either camouflaged fatigues or plainclothes arrived in unmarked vehicles.⁵³ A 7 witness, waiting for her car to be washed, recalled seeing “an agent carrying an

9 while other customers screamed “Don’t shoot!”⁵⁴ The federal agent caught the man 10 and took him into custody.⁵⁵

11 60. At a Home Depot in Santa Ana on June 9, 2025, a U.S. asylum seeker 12 from Peru was detained and later released upon producing documents. He recalls 13 that “[the agents] arrived in an aggressive manner,” pointing guns, as if to “rob 14 them.”⁵⁶

15 61. At the Downey Memorial Christian Church on June 11, 2025, three

3 of the church tried to communicate in Spanish with the man being detained, an agent 4 pointed a gun at her.⁶⁰

5 62. In Santa Ana, agents were observed on video repeatedly beating 6 Narciso Barranco, father to three sons who have served in the U.S. Marines, on the 7 head and neck, even though Barranco was already on the ground.⁶¹

8 63. Two days later at a Home Depot in Ladera Heights, eight heavily

10 After they had arrested the woman and were driving away, they threw three tear gas

12 The men refused to identify themselves.⁶²

2 another agent to let him go.⁶³

3 65. Agents and officers have not only employed these tactics with alarming 4 regularity, but they have also refused to identify themselves or what agency they are 5 with when asked. Such refusal to identify themselves endangers public safety,⁶⁴ 6 frustrates any efforts at accountability, including in this case, and ultimately 7 normalizes lawless and dangerous conduct behind the shield of anonymity.

8 C. The Particular Role of Race/Ethnicity

9 66. Lacking reasonable suspicion, Defendants instead rely on apparent race 10 and/or ethnicity to meet their policy goals. Defendants’ practice of targeting Latino 11 individuals in their immigration operations violates what the Supreme Court has 12 said to be the “core purpose” of equal protection: to do “away with all 13 governmentally imposed discrimination based on race.” Students for Fair 14 Admissions, 600 U.S. at 206 (quoting Palmore v. Sidoti, 466 U.S. 429, 432 (1984)).

15 67. The constitutional prohibition against discrimination based on race and 16 ethnicity, incorporated through the Fifth Amendment Due Process Clause, is 17 separate and distinct from the Fourth Amendment’s protections against 18 unreasonable search and seizure. In fact, the Supreme Court has held that the right to 19 equal protection may be violated even if the government’s actions otherwise are 20 acceptable under the Fourth Amendment.

21 68. Defendants are engaged in a policy and practice of intentionally 22 stopping individuals on the basis of apparent Latino race, color and/or ethnicity.

1 When federal immigration agents “make interior immigration stops or arrests based 2 on race or ethnicity,” Trump v. Illinois, 146 S. Ct. at 436 n.4 (Kavanaugh, J., 3 concurring), as Defendants are doing here—directly and through proxies for race or 4 ethnicity—such conduct is in clear violation of the Constitution’s guarantee of equal 5 protection.

6 69. In addition, Defendants are engaged in a policy and practice of relying 7 on apparent ethnicity in their selection of locations to raid and of whom they 8 investigate, question and/or arrest, and in subjecting individuals to different, 9 burdensome, stigmatizing and/or injurious treatment during the raids. Defendants do 10 so by relying on stereotypes about Latino individuals, “by reason of their 11 membership in a racial group.” Shaw, 509 U.S. at 643. Defendants “raid[] known 12 hubs for Latino workers . . . hardware store parking lots, car washes, and street 13 vendor corners,”⁶⁵ and once at these locations, investigate those who appear Latino, 14 including customers or bystanders, while ignoring white-appearing individuals at the 15 same location—even those who run away from agents.

16 70. Defendants’ policies and practices of selecting whom to stop based on 17 apparent Latino ethnicity, and Defendants’ policy and practice of discriminating 18 based on apparent Latino ethnicity in their selection of locations to raid and their 19 treatment of Latino individuals, see supra, at ¶ 69, expressly classify individuals 20 based on Latino race, color, and/or ethnicity.

21 71. Even if Defendants’ policies and practices were articulated as race-22 neutral, they are “unexplainable on grounds other than race.” See Village of 23 Arlington Heights v. Metro. Hous.Dev. Corp., 429 U.S. 252, 266 (1977) (citing Yick

1 policies and practices are motivated by discriminatory intent and have a 2 discriminatory effect on Plaintiffs. See Arlington Heights, 429 U.S. at 265–68.

3 72. Federal agents regularly make racially-charged statements while 4 conducting raids.⁶⁶ For example, during the detention and arrest of Javier Ramirez, a 5 line agent yelled “get him, he’s Mexican” before grabbing and throwing Ramirez to 6 the ground, putting a knee on top of his head—which cracked his jaw—and then 7 arresting him. Ramirez—who was present at the tow yard where named Plaintiff 8 Jason Brian Gavidia was stopped and detained—is an American citizen born in the 9 United States.

10 73. Further evidencing the government’s discriminatory intent, DHS has 11 deployed racist dog-whistles to recruit new officers, as in the following example⁶⁷:

1 74. Discriminatory intent can also be shown because Defendants have 2 acted in a way that departs from the norm and past practices.

3 75. Defendants' departures from the norm and past practices include their 4 shift away from targeted enforcement in an effort to boost arrest numbers at all 5 costs; their decision to move Border Patrol away from the border to conduct daily 6 roving patrols in the interior; and the heavily militarized nature of their operations.

7 76. Further, Defendants do not provide sufficient training or oversight to 8 prevent impermissible racial profiling and to safeguard constitutional rights on the 9 ground. Among other problems, formal training for ICE officers has been cut from 10 22 weeks to a fraction of that time; and whereas police officers who wanted to work 11 with ICE historically had to complete a four-week, in-person training, they now may 12 do so after just 40 hours of online instruction.⁶⁸

13 77. Discriminatory intent also can be demonstrated through historical 14 context. Here, the Border Patrol has a well-documented history of discriminatory 15 conduct and statements toward Latinos.⁶⁹ For example, a 2019 ProPublica report

5 enforcement operations in this District.⁷¹

6 79. Officials continue to use discriminatory language and stereotypes to

1 “destroy[ing] Americans’ Public Schools, Hospitals, Parks, Community Resources,

3 Nightmares.”⁷⁹ Stephen Miller proclaimed that immigration agents were engaged in 4 “a fight to save civilization”⁸⁰ from immigrants, whom he demonized as “illegal 5 alien invaders, cartel killers, foreign terrorists, transnational gangs and 6 insurrectionist mobs.”⁸¹ Further, Defendant Noem has repeatedly—and wholly 7 inaccurately—continued to characterize all individuals arrested in the Los Angeles 8 raids as “criminal illegal aliens, gang members, child predators, and murderers.”⁸²

9 80. In fact, Defendant agencies are arresting thousands of Latino 10 individuals who have had no prior contact with law enforcement. The number who 11 have been swept up in Defendants’ discriminatory dragnet without criminal history 12 or removal orders arrested by Defendants daily spiked from single digits at the end 13 of May 2025 to nearly 350 in July 2025.⁸³ The number of Latino individuals 14 arrested with no criminal history or charges increased sixfold during the first eight 15 months of the Trump Administration, in a drastic departure from past practice.⁸⁴ 16 And that statistic does not include individuals who were questioned and stopped, at 17 least in part due to their Latino ethnicity, but were not arrested.

1 81. Defendants’ policies and practices of selecting whom to stop based on
2 apparent Latino ethnicity, and Defendants’ policy and practice of discriminating
3 based on apparent Latino ethnicity in their selection of locations to raid and their 4 treatment of Latino individuals, see supra, at ¶ 69, are sanctioned by officials with 5 authority over the policies.

6 82. At the highest levels of government, in official statements, individuals 7 have stated and continue to state that race and/or ethnicity plays a role in 8 determining where officers conduct raids and whom officers are encouraged to stop.
9 For example, “border czar” Tom Homan openly stated that when officers detain 10 individuals at “a Home Depot,” one of the “typical facts” they consider includes the 11 person’s “physical appearance.”⁸⁵ And Defendant Bovino admitted to a reporter that 12 his agents arrest people based on “how they look,” contrasting the appearance of the 13 targets of Defendants’ enforcement policy with that of the reporter, a white man.⁸⁶
14 Defendants have not denied these statements, and instead have insisted that to carry 15 out their mission in this District, they must be able to rely on “apparent ethnicity” 16 and stop a “relatively broad range of individuals.”⁸⁷

1 83. The Constitution forbids the government from employing a racial 2 classification or discriminating on the basis of race except when such a policy is 3 narrowly drawn to serve a compelling governmental interest. Defendants’ ongoing 4 policy and practice of selecting who to stop based on apparent Latino ethnicity and 5 of discriminating based on apparent Latino ethnicity in their selection of locations to 6 raid and their treatment of Latino individuals, see supra, at ¶ 69, are thus both 7 subject to strict scrutiny review. Defendants cannot satisfy this exacting standard.
8 See, e.g., Korematsu v. United States, 323 U.S. 214, 215 (1944), abrogated by 9 Trump v. Hawaii, 585 U.S. 667 (2018).

10 84. Defendants’ policies and practices fail strict scrutiny at the threshold 11 because they are motivated, at least in part, by racial or ethnic animus. Racial or 12 ethnic animus cannot constitute a compelling government interest.

13 85. Alternatively and additionally, even if Defendants’ policies and 14 practices are not motivated by racial animus, they fail strict scrutiny because they 15 are not narrowly tailored to achieve a compelling government interest. If 16 Defendants’ goal is enforcement of the immigration laws, Defendants have other 17 more tailored, and more effective, ways to achieve that goal other than enforcement 18 of their racially discriminatory policies.

19 86. Defendants’ reliance on race and ethnicity is especially unreasonable 20 because a large percentage of Latinos living in the United States and in this District 21 are, in fact, lawfully present. Approximately 79% of all U.S. Latinos are U.S.
22 citizens.⁸⁸ In California, Latinos account for 41% of the population⁸⁹—and that 23 number is even higher in the Central District, where those who identify as Hispanic

1 or Latino make up approximately 47.3% of the population.⁹⁰ The vast majority of 2 the District’s Latino residents are citizens or otherwise lawfully present here.⁹¹
3 Relying on Latino ethnicity for immigration enforcement in a District where nearly 4 half the population identifies as Hispanic or Latino is patently unreasonable. And 5 indeed, Defendants’ methods have subjected an unprecedented number of U.S.
6 citizens and other lawfully present noncitizens to intrusions on their liberty, 7 including unlawful questioning, stops, and arrests. In this District, U.S. citizens of 8 Latino ethnicity targeted by Defendants’ discriminatory policies and practices have 9 been tackled, slammed to the ground, and even held in federal detention centers.⁹²

1 87. Defendants’ racially and ethnically discriminatory policies and 2 practices have caused behavioral shifts among those that Defendants may perceive 3 to be Latino.⁹³ Individuals in the Central District now live in fear of being 4 unlawfully stopped and/or arrested as federal agents continue to stop individuals 5 while they are walking or driving in public spaces simply for “looking Latino.”
6 These reasonable fears have led to serious health and educational consequences, 7 including missed doctors’ appointments and increased school absences.⁹⁴ Many 8 individuals also have changed their behaviors in other respects, including reducing 9 their work schedules and refraining from constitutionally protected activities such as 10 attending religious services. These chilling effects and behavioral changes have 11 extended to Latino citizens and lawful residents.

12 88. As Defendants’ discriminatory policies continue, the number of Latinos 13 in this District who limit their activities due to this ongoing reasonable fear continue 14 to increase. Indeed, named Plaintiff Hernandez Viramontes, a U.S. citizen, applied 15 for and now carries a passport card with him out of fear he will be stopped by 16 immigration agents again. As one Latino U.S. citizen put it: “That sucks, to be a

1 U.S. citizen and not be able to walk in the country of freedom. It sucks that we’re 2 antagonized for being Hispanic.”⁹⁵

3 89. No compelling interest justifies Defendants’ widespread discriminatory
4 and racially motivated tactics. Defendants’ purported interest in enforcing the law 5 does not permit Defendants to abandon constitutional constraints or to treat any 6 racial or ethnic group as inherently suspect.

7 90. By engaging in racial profiling and selectively enforcing their 8 immigration policies and practices against those who appear to be Latino, 9 Defendants have institutionalized discrimination within their operations, subjecting 10 Latinos and other people of color regardless of immigration status to fear, 11 humiliation, and unequal treatment under federal law.

12 D. Defendants’ Unreasonable Manner of Seizures

13 91. Compounding the problem, Defendants are subjecting the individuals 14 they detain to highly intrusive stops that exceed the reasonable bounds of a Terry
15 stop. Under the Fourth Amendment, a Terry stop must be justified at its inception 16 and also must be reasonably related in scope and manner to the circumstances 17 justifying it. See Florida v. Royer, 460 U.S. 491, 499–506 (1983) (discussing Terry 18 v. Ohio, 392 U.S. 1 (1968)). Defendants’ policy and practice of using highly 19 intrusive tactics—including but not limited to handcuffing, confinement, relocation 20 to a secondary location, and prolonged detention—are not plausibly justified by the 21 circumstances, particularly for civil violations like unlawful presence.

22 92. As discussed above, at locations including bus stops, car washes, and 23 parking lots, with a militaristic show of force, agents ambush residents with multiple 24 vehicles—often unmarked—and surround a site, blocking pathways, entrances and 25 exits, ensuring no one can leave without authorization. Agents and officers rush out

28 profiling in LA raids, NPR (July 4, 2025), <https://www.npr.org/2025/07/04/nx-s1-5438396/antagonized-for-being-hispanic-growing-claims-of-racial-profiling-in-la-raids>.

1 from multiple directions without identifying themselves, weapons visible and 2 sometimes drawn. Faced with this display, Plaintiff Osorto thought he was being 3 kidnapped. Terrified, he tried to run. In response, an agent pointed a taser at his 4 heart.

5 93. Agents are quick to use force, even when the individual is already 6 compliant. An agent pushed Plaintiff Gavidia forcefully against a metal fence and 7 twisted his arm painfully. When agents arrested Andrea Velez, witnesses described 8 it as a “kidnapping.”⁹⁶

9 94. Once they have stopped individuals, agents and officers often handcuff 10 them and place them in vehicles before having much, if any, information about their 11 citizenship or immigration status. Protests of citizenship or lawful status are ignored 12 or met with further intrusions—officers or agents often still handcuff and/or take 13 them away.

14 95. Compounding the unreasonable manner in which agents and officers 15 are conducting stops, agents or officers regularly confiscate personal property, such 16 as identification documents, and often retain such property for extended periods, and 17 in some instances never return it. For example, after being shoved against the fence, 18 Plaintiff Gavidia’s Real ID was taken and never returned to him. Agents or officers 19 also frequently search individuals without consent, taking their identification 20 documents.

21 96. Once placed in a vehicle, individuals are typically confined for 22 prolonged periods and isolated from public view. Defendants then often transport 23 individuals to a different location for investigation as a routine component of their 24 raids. For example, Plaintiff Hernandez Viramontes, after explaining that he is a 25 U.S. citizen and providing his drivers’ license, was nevertheless placed in a vehicle, 26 driven around, and held for about 20 minutes before he was released. Others are

28 ⁹⁶ Anguiano, supra, at n.48.

1 transported under guard to unfamiliar secondary locations, before agents finally 2 investigate their citizenship or immigration status. This relocation magnifies the 3 intrusiveness and coerciveness of the encounter.

4 97. Regardless of whether individuals are taken to other locations, people 5 are frequently held far longer than necessary to dispel any suspicion agents may 6 reasonably have. Those detained have suffered physical harm, in some cases even 7 requiring hospitalization, as well as mental and emotional harm.

8 98. As part of Defendants' policy and practice, agents routinely utilize 9 highly intrusive tactics, including but not limited to handcuffing, confinement in 10 vehicles, relocation, and prolonged detention, without a determination that the 11 individual poses safety concerns and without any exigent circumstances.

12 99. Defendants do not require agents or officers to articulate any separate 13 justification for, or even document in many instances, the use of such high-intensity 14 tactics. Defendants' operations normalize these tactics as routine components of 15 immigration enforcement. Rather than tailoring tactics to the specific circumstances 16 of each encounter, Defendants employ the same militarized tactics as a matter of 17 course.

18 100. Defendants' conduct during their operations, often without any 19 warning, contributes to the reasonableness of some individuals' responses that 20 Defendants often characterize as evasion or resistance. Such responses cannot on 21 their own justify Defendants' tactics.⁹⁷

22 101. The threat of unnecessary intrusion and force further demeans the 23 District's residents. Latino residents—as well as anyone who fears being targeted 24 because of their appearance—must risk brutal encounters with masked and armed 25 officers each time they leave their home.

27 ⁹⁷ See Blankenhorn v. City of Orange, 485 F.3d 463, 479–80 (9th Cir. 2007) 28 (holding that officers' conduct in tackling plaintiff to the ground without warning triggered plaintiff's limited right to reasonable resistance and made the officers' later use of restraints unreasonable).

1 102. Defendants’ policy and practice of using highly intrusive tactics
2 transforms their investigatory stops into de facto arrests under the Fourth 3 Amendment. It also violates the Fourth Amendment’s requirement that the scope 4 and manner of a seizure be reasonable under the totality of the circumstances. See 5 Washington v. Lambert, 98 F.3d 1181, 1185–88 (9th Cir. 1996).

6 E. Warrantless Arrests Without an Individualized Determination of Flight
7 Risk

8 103. Congress enacted a strong preference that immigration arrests be based 9 on warrants. See Arizona v. United States, 567 U.S. 387, 407–08 (2012). The 10 Immigration and Nationality Act thus provides immigration agents with only limited 11 authority to conduct warrantless arrests. 8 U.S.C. § 1357(a)(2). Federal regulations 12 track the strict limitations on warrantless arrests. See 8 C.F.R. § 287.8(c)(2)(ii).

13 104. An immigration officer can make an arrest without a warrant only if 14 they have probable cause to believe that the individual “is in the United States in 15 violation of any [immigration] law or regulation,” and (2) the individual “is likely to 16 escape before a warrant can be obtained” for his arrest. § 1357(a)(2); 17 § 287.8(c)(2)(ii) (same); Tejeda-Mata v. INS, 626 F.2d 721, 725 (9th Cir. 1980). The 18 requirement that officers establish probable cause of flight risk before conducting a 19 warrantless arrest requires a particularized finding of likelihood of escape. Mountain 20 High Knitting, Inc. v. Reno, 51 F.3d 216, 218 (9th Cir. 1995).

21 105. Defendants have a policy and practice of effectuating warrantless 22 arrests without making an individualized flight risk determination.

23 106. As one witness to a raid at a Home Depot recounted, the officers “just 24 grab[] people” and “don’t ask questions.”⁹⁸

1 107. For example, on June 8, 2025, Jesus Cruz Uitz, a member of CLEAN
2 Carwash Worker Center, which is part of Plaintiff LAWCN, was working at the car
3 wash he has worked at for approximately 8 years when masked agents arrived. Mr.
4 Cruz Uitz stayed where he was working but an officer angrily approached him, 5 grabbed him by the arms, and ultimately arrested him. The officer did not have a 6 warrant to arrest Mr. Cruz Uitz and did not ask him any questions to assess his 7 individualized flight risk.

8 108. On June 9, 2025, a resident, M.N., was working at the same car wash 9 when agents arrested him without a warrant and without asking him any questions 10 relevant to assess his flight risk.

11 109. And on June 9, 2025, Jose Valdez Rios was at Home Depot when 12 agents arrested him without a warrant and without asking him any questions relevant 13 to assess his flight risk. Agents never asked him about his job, family, community, 14 or other ties to the United States.

15 F. Arrests Without Identification of Authority or Reason

16 110. Regulations also require immigration officers to (1) identify themselves 17 “as an immigration officer who is authorized to execute an arrest”; and (2) “[s]tate 18 that the person is under arrest and the reason for the arrest,” as soon as it is practical 19 and safe to do so. 8 C.F.R. § 287.8(c)(2)(iii).

20 111. Defendants have a policy and practice of failing to identify themselves 21 or explain the basis for an arrest upon taking someone into custody. As noted above, 22 agents and officers have often shown up masked, without any visible badges or 23 insignia indicating what agency they are with, and have refused to identify 24 themselves when asked. This has extended through the time of arrest, with 25 individuals left in the dark about who they are interacting with or why they are 26 under arrest.

27

1 G. Conditions at B-18 and the Denial of Access to Counsel

2 112. James Pendergraph, former Executive Director of ICE Office of State
3 and Local Coordination once said, “If you don’t have enough evidence to charge 4 someone criminally but you think he’s illegal, we can make him disappear.”⁹⁹ That 5 ethos is animating Defendants’ Los Angeles operations today.

6 113. Individuals detained in immigration operations have a right to counsel 7 that is rooted in the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment. Usubakunov v.
8 Garland, 16 F.4th 1299, 1304 (9th Cir. 2021); Biwot v. Gonzales, 403 F.3d 1094, 9 1098 (9th Cir. 2005); see also Torres v. United States Dep’t of Homeland Sec., 411
10 F. Supp. 3d 1036, 1060-61 (C.D. Cal. 2019). When the government detains 11 individuals as part of immigration enforcement efforts, it cannot impose restrictions 12 on access to attorneys that undermine the opportunity to obtain counsel or 13 communicate with retained counsel. See Orantes-Hernandez v. Thornburgh, 919
14 F.2d 549, 554, 565 (9th Cir. 1990); see also Usubakunov, 16 F.4th at 1300 15 (“Navigating the asylum system with an attorney is hard enough; navigating it 16 without an attorney is a Herculean task.”); Comm. of Cent. Am. Refugees v. INS, 795 17 F.2d 1434, 1439 (9th Cir. 1986) (recognizing that impediments to communication, 18 especially in connection with a difficult-to-access facility, can constitute a 19 “constitutional deprivation” where they obstruct an “established on-going attorney-20 client relationship.”).

21 114. Further, civil detainees have “a right to adequate food, shelter, clothing, 22 and medical care.” Youngberg v. Romeo, 457 U.S. 307 (1982). Their conditions of 23 confinement become unconstitutional if they “amount to punishment,” Bell v.
24 Wolfish, 441 U.S. 520, 535 (1979), in other words, when “the harm or disability

1 caused by the government’s action . . . significantly exceed[s], or [is] independent 2 of, the inherent discomforts of confinement[.]” Demery v. Arpaio, 378 F.3d 1020, 3 1030 (9th Cir. 2004). During the ongoing raids, and as an integral part of the policy 4 and pattern of unlawful stops and arrests described above, Defendants have been 5 taking individuals who are swept up en masse to the basement of the federal 6 building at 300 North Los Angeles Street in Los Angeles, commonly referred to as 7 “B-18.” B-18 is a facility for immigrant detainees designed to hold a limited number 8 of individuals temporarily so they can be processed and released, or processed and 9 transported to a long-term detention facility. It does not have beds, showers, or 10 medical facilities.

11 115. B-18 was previously the subject of litigation in this District, and a 12 lawsuit over the inhumane treatment of detainees there resulted in a 2009 settlement 13 agreement requiring that individuals not be held at B-18 for more than 12 hours. See 14 Castellano v. Napolitano, No. 2:09-CV-02281 (C.D. Cal. Sept. 16, 2009). Other 15 provisions of the agreement required that detainees at B-18 be allowed to “visit with 16 current or prospective legal representatives and their legal assistants seven days a 17 week, including holidays, for eight hours per day on regular business days (Monday 18 through Friday), and four hours per day on weekends and holidays.”

19 116. The settlement agreement has since expired. But under the immense 20 pressure to receive individuals arrested, the unlawful conditions that led to the 21 settlement more than a decade ago are recurring today. Individuals taken to B-18 are 22 being kept in overcrowded, inhumane conditions. They are held in small 23 windowless rooms with dozens or more other detainees, in extremely cramped 24 quarters. Some rooms are so cramped that detainees cannot sit, let alone lie down, 25 for hours at a time.

26 117. As of June 20, 2025, upon information and belief, over 300 individuals 27 were being held at B-18. They are expected to sleep in cold rooms on floors without 28 cots, bedding, or blankets. Some are even forced to sleep in tents outside.

1 118. When asked why detainees have been forced to sleep in such cramped 2 conditions, an officer at B-18 explained that B-18 is meant to be a processing center, 3 not a detention facility. Historically, processing of individuals in removal 4 proceedings would result in the release of an individual detained pending their next 5 court hearing or, barring release, immediate transfer to a detention facility. But B-18 6 is not being used that way today, and individuals are being held there far longer than 7 12 hours, often for days on end.

8 119. Detainees are also routinely deprived of food. Some have not even been 9 given water other than what comes out of the combined sink and toilet in the group 10 detention room. And upon asking for food, detainees have been told repeatedly that 11 the facility has run out.

12 120. Detainees are routinely denied access to necessary medical care and 13 medications, too. Individuals with conditions that require consistent medications and 14 treatment are not given any medical attention, even when that information is brought 15 to the attention of the officers on duty. The facility cannot even provide detainees 16 with basic hygiene. Individuals who are menstruating have had to wait long periods 17 before receiving menstrual pads, if they receive them at all.

18 121. To make matters worse—and, indeed, to keep the true nature and scope 19 of Defendants’ constitutional violations, including those related to stops and arrest, 20 hidden from the outside world—individuals detained at B-18 have had their access 21 to prospective or retained counsel severely and unconstitutionally restricted.

22 122. On June 6, 2025, attorneys and legal representatives from 23 organizational Plaintiffs CHIRLA and ImmDef attempted to gain access to B-18 to 24 advise detainees of their rights and assess their eligibility for relief, but they were 25 not permitted to enter.

26 123. When they returned to B-18 the next morning, attorneys identified a 27 handwritten notice on the door of the family and attorney entrance at B-18 28 indicating that they would not permit any visits that day. Federal officers then

1 deployed an unknown chemical agent against family members, attorneys, and 2 representatives, including CHIRLA and ImmDef legal staff, who were peacefully
3 requesting access to detained individuals. The chemical agent that federal agents 4 sprayed caused everyone to cough and inflicted a burning sensation in the eyes, 5 nose, and throat.

6 124. That same morning, numerous unmarked white vans quickly departed
7 B-18 with a group of detainees. CHIRLA and ImmDef attorneys and representatives 8 attempted to loudly share know your rights information with the detainees in the 9 vans. To prevent the detainees from hearing their rights, and therefore exercising 10 them, the federal agents blasted their horns to drown them out.

11 125. On June 7, 2025, another ImmDef attorney arrived at B-18 to find a 12 handwritten notice that the facility was closed to visitation, as shown below:¹⁰⁰

28 ¹⁰⁰ Photos taken by LARRN attorney Helen Boyer Saturday June 7, 2025 at approx 8:50 AM.

1 126. As a result, attorneys and family members were unable to access B-18 2 the entire weekend during the first few days of the raids.

3 127. On the rare occasions when attorneys and family members have been 4 allowed access to their clients or loved ones, they have been made to wait hours at a 5 time to see them, and the resulting visits have been limited to a mere five to 10 6 minutes. Detention officers screen the very limited phone calls that detainees are 7 permitted to make, and phone calls cannot be used for confidential legal 8 communications.

9 128. In many cases, attorneys and family members have been unable to 10 determine whether a particular individual is even detained at B-18, or whether they 11 have been transferred to another facility. B-18 officers have refused to provide clear 12 answers to questions about detainees' whereabouts, or refused to answer questions 13 altogether. ICE's online locator, which provides information about detainees' 14 location, is not updated in a timely manner.

15 129. The severe access restrictions have persisted as Defendants' mass 16 arrests continue to occur across Southern California.

17 130. On June 16, 2025, ImmDef attorneys, as well as Congressman Jimmy 18 Gomez, arrived at B-18 around 3:00 p.m. on a day when B-18 was purportedly open 19 for visiting between 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. But they were denied access, along with 20 family members who had been instructed to go to B-18 to pick up their loved ones' 21 possessions.

22 131. On June 19, 2025, an ImmDef attorney arrived at B-18 to meet with 23 detainees, including one who was scheduled for a chemotherapy appointment the 24 next day. Despite showing a doctor's note confirming the appointment and 25 specifying that missing the appointment would be detrimental to the detainee's 26 health, the guards repeatedly would not allow the attorney to meet with the ill 27 detainee. One officer told the attorney that he had no way to find the individual 28 because hundreds of people were detained in the facility.

1 132. B-18 officers have and continue to consistently close the doors to 2 detainees’ prospective or retained counsel at unexpected and unexplained times.

3 133. The use of B-18 as a makeshift, long-term detention center for 4 hundreds of individuals has and continues to cause significant, ongoing harm.
5 Defendants have intentionally restricted detainees’ access to those who may be able 6 to intervene on their behalf at a critical time when they are likely to face imminent 7 government action in their case. Indeed, one of ImmDef’s clients who has been 8 granted asylum and who should never have been arrested was picked up at a Home 9 Depot looking for work. He would have disappeared into the detention system if not 10 for an ImmDef attorney’s last minute intervention at B-18 on June 19, 2025.

11 134. In fact, some individuals have accepted voluntary departure from this 12 country under 8 U.S.C. § 1229c(a)(1), without having had the opportunity to consult 13 with counsel, even though due process requires that any waiver of a right to a 14 hearing be knowing and voluntary. See, e.g., United States v. Ramos, 623 F.3d 672, 15 682–83 (9th Cir. 2010). Upon information and belief, the inhumane conditions at B-16 18 create a coercive environment that pressures some of those detained individuals 17 to take voluntary departure or to self deport without first consulting with counsel 18 and despite potential deportation relief because they fear lengthy detention in 19 deplorable conditions.

20 135. Combined with the continued deplorable conditions at B-18—lack of 21 food, medical care, basic hygiene, and overcrowding—B-18 is a disaster continuing 22 to happen. And until these issues are resolved, the true scale of the legal violations 23 Defendants are engaged in will remain unknown.

24 H. Defendants’ Pattern of Illegal Conduct Is Officially Sanctioned

25 136. Defendants’ conduct on operations and denial of access to counsel and 26 conditions at B-18 are the predictable result of directives from top officials to agents 27 and officers.

1 139. Meanwhile, the administration began systematically dismantling

1 ATF¹¹⁶ and DEA).¹¹⁷ A number of these agencies have a history of engaging in 2 unconstitutional and unlawful stops and arrests.

3 144. For example, the U.S. Border Patrol has a documented history of 4 Fourth Amendment violations in the U.S. interior: U.S. Border Patrol agents have 5 relied on perceived race or ethnicity to select who to stop, conducted suspicionless 6 stops, executed warrantless home raids, and carried out illegal worksite operations.
7 Courts have repeatedly intervened to curb these practices. See LaDuke v. Nelson, 8 762 F.2d 1318 (9th Cir. 1985), amended, 796 F.2d 309 (9th Cir. 1986), affirmed,

15 workplace raids across Northern California where agents stopped workers for 16 questioning without reasonable suspicion and arrested people who refused to answer 17 questions, including U.S. citizens).

18 145. Most recently, the El Centro Sector of the U.S. Border Patrol, one of 19 the key participants in the raids being challenged in this suit, was the focus of a suit 20 filed in the Eastern District of California over a Kern County operation called 21 “Operation Return to Sender.” The tactics challenged here—including widespread 13 146. ICE, which typically handles immigration enforcement in the interior 14 and “manag[es] all aspects of the immigration enforcement process, including the 15 identification, arrest, detention, and removal of [noncitizens],”¹¹⁹ has likewise been 16 found to violate the Fourth Amendment, statutory, and regulatory rights of 17 individuals it encounters in the field.

18 147. For instance, in 2008, ICE HSI agents conducted a workplace raid in 19 Van Nuys, California. Agents executed a search warrant but also engaged in 20 detentive stops of workers without individualized reasonable suspicion. The Ninth 21 Circuit eventually ruled that this was unlawful and invalidated the ensuing removal 22 proceedings. Perez Cruz v. Barr, 926 F.3d 1128, 1137 (9th Cir. 2019) (citing 8

1 148. In Nava v. DHS, a plaintiff class in Chicago challenged a pattern and 2 practice of ICE conducting warrantless arrests without making required 3 determinations under 8 U.S.C. § 1357. Nava v. Dep’t of Homeland Sec., 435 F.
4 Supp. 3d 880, 885 (N.D. Ill. 2020). The case resulted in a settlement that included a 5 nationwide policy about warrantless arrests and vehicle stops.¹²⁰ In June 2025, 6 despite a pending motion to enforce the settlement agreement and motion to extend 7 the settlement agreement, ICE terminated its policy under the settlement that 8 required officers to document the circumstances of warrantless arrests and vehicle 9 stops.¹²¹

10 149. Meanwhile, in this District, in May 2024, plaintiffs secured a summary 11 judgment order in Kidd v. Mayorkas, 734 F. Supp. 3d 967, 982 (C.D. Cal. 2024), 12 holding unlawful ICE’s practice of entering onto the curtilage of homes during

14 Public reports confirm that in late May, Defendant Essayli, instead directed DOJ law 15 enforcement agencies to take over door knocking tasks.¹²²

16 150. In sum, Defendants in this case have demonstrated a willingness to 17 bypass basic constitutional, statutory, and regulatory requirements when it comes to 18 immigration enforcement, even before top-down pressure demanded adherence with 32 Defendants in that case also indicated in a court pleading that they intend to resume 33 ICE knock and talks as of July 1, 2025. Plaintiffs in that case have sought to confirm 34 whether this is still their intent and have not received a response.

1 dramatically higher arrest quotas. When their practices have come under scrutiny, 2 rather than take the opportunity to conform their conduct to the law, they have 3 evaded accountability by replicating those practices in another geographic area, 4 declining to document what they do, and directing other federal partners not under 5 court order to take over tasks that have been found to be unconstitutional. It is 6 therefore no surprise that the immigration raids in the Los Angeles area have been 7 marked by systematic disregard of the law.

8 J. Experiences of Individual Plaintiffs

9 Plaintiff Pedro Vasquez Perdomo

10 151. In the early morning of June 18, 2025, in Pasadena, California, Plaintiff 11 Vasquez Perdomo was waiting at a bus stop next to Winchell's Donuts with several 12 co-workers to be picked up for a job.

13 152. Suddenly, about four cars converged on his location, and about half a 14 dozen masked agents jumped out on either side of him. They had weapons and 15 masks, and did not identify themselves.

16 153. To Plaintiff Vasquez Perdomo, it felt like a kidnapping. He tried to 17 leave but was swiftly surrounded, grabbed, handcuffed, and put into one of the 18 vehicles.

19 154. At the time he was handcuffed, agents did not have reasonable 20 suspicion of a violation of immigration law.

21 155. It was only after he was brought to a nearby CVS parking lot that 22 agents checked Plaintiff Vasquez Perdomo's identification.

23 156. No warrant was shown. Agents did not have a warrant of any kind for 24 Plaintiff Vasquez Perdomo's arrest.

25 157. Agents proceeded with a warrantless arrest of Plaintiff Vasquez 26 Perdomo without making an individualized determination of risk of flight.

27 158. If agents had evaluated Plaintiff Vasquez Perdomo for risk of flight, 28 they would have learned he had lived in Pasadena for decades.

1 159. Agents did not inform Plaintiff Vasquez Perdomo that they were 2 immigration officers authorized to make an arrest or of the basis for his arrest.

3 160. At the time this action was filed, Plaintiff Vasquez Perdomo had been 4 transported to and was being held at the federal building at 300 North Los Angeles
5 St. in B-18. There he experienced extremely crowded and unsanitary conditions, 6 was given little to eat or drink, and slept on the floor.

7 161. Plaintiff has representation in his removal proceedings. His counsel is 8 located in Pasadena, California.

9 162. Plaintiff's family is located in Pasadena, California.

10 163. Plaintiff is diabetic and felt increasingly ill following his arrest. He has 11 felt depressed since his arrest and reasonably fears being racially profiled again.

12 Plaintiff Carlos Alexander Osorto

13 164. In the early morning of June 18, 2025, in Pasadena, California, Plaintiff 14 Osorto was waiting to be picked up for work with his co-worker Plaintiff Vasquez 15 Perdomo.

16 165. When federal agents approached, Plaintiff Osorto was terrified. He had 17 seen videos of what had been happening around Los Angeles and also had heard of 18 masked people who were not even government agents taking community members 19 away. He tried to run, but one of the agents caught up to him and pointed a taser at 20 his heart and said "stop or I'll use it!" Plaintiff Osorto stopped immediately.

21 166. Plaintiff Osorto was handcuffed and put into a vehicle.

22 167. At the time he was handcuffed, agents did not have reasonable
23 suspicion of a violation of immigration law.

24 168. It was only after he was brought to a nearby CVS parking lot that 25 agents asked Plaintiff Osorto if he had papers.

26 169. No warrant was shown. Agents did not have a warrant of any kind for 27 Plaintiff Osorto's arrest.

28

1 170. Agents proceeded with a warrantless arrest of Plaintiff Osorto without 2 making an individualized determination of risk of flight.

3 171. If agents had evaluated Plaintiff Osorto for risk of flight, they would 4 have learned he had built homes all around Los Angeles, lived in Pasadena for more 5 than a decade, and had 7 grandchildren who are U.S. citizens.

6 172. Agents did not inform Plaintiff Osorto that they were immigration 7 officers authorized to make an arrest or of the basis for his arrest.

8 173. At the time this action was filed, Plaintiff Osorto had been transported 9 to and was being held at the federal building at 300 North Los Angeles St. in B-18.
10 The facility was full and when people asked for help officers told them there was no 11 food, no water, and no medicine.

12 174. Plaintiff Osorto has representation in his removal proceedings. His 13 counsel is located in Pasadena, California.

14 175. Plaintiff Osorto's family is located throughout Los Angeles County, 15 including in Pasadena, California.

16 176. Plaintiff Osorto developed high blood pressure, he believes as a result 17 of the stress he experienced. He has been scared and overwhelmed by what 18 happened and fears being targeted again for being a Latino person in construction 19 clothes.

20 Plaintiff Isaac Antonio Villegas Molina

21 177. In the early morning of June 18, 2025, in Pasadena, California, Plaintiff
22 Villegas Molina was waiting to be picked up for work with his co-workers Plaintiff 23 Vasquez Perdomo and Plaintiff Osorto.

24 178. When federal agents approached, Plaintiff Villegas Molina was also 25 afraid but tried his best to stay calm.

26 179. An agent yelled at Plaintiff Villegas Molina not to run, even though he 27 was still and calm. He was told to provide his ID and he provided his California ID, 28 but the agent kept questioning him. At this point, he did not feel free to leave.

1 180. When they were questioning him, agents did not have reasonable
2 suspicion of a violation of immigration law.

3 181. No warrant was shown. Agents did not have a warrant of any kind for 4 Plaintiff Villegas Molina's arrest.

5 182. Agents proceeded with a warrantless arrest of Plaintiff Villegas Molina 6 without making an individualized determination of risk of flight.

7 183. If agents had evaluated Plaintiff Villegas Molina for risk of flight, they 8 would have learned he had lived in Pasadena for 13 years and had worked at 9 restaurants across Los Angeles.

10 184. Agents did not inform Plaintiff Villegas Molina that they were 11 immigration officers authorized to make an arrest or of the basis for his arrest.

12 185. At the time this action was filed, Plaintiff Villegas Molina had been 13 transported to and was being held at the federal building at 300 North Los Angeles
14 St. in B-18. He slept on the floor and was given almost nothing to eat.

16 located in Pasadena, California.

17 187. Plaintiff had a difficult time in detention. He fears being targeted again 18 because of his race.

19 Plaintiff Jorge Hernandez Viramontes

20 188. On the morning of June 18, 2025, Plaintiff Hernandez Viramontes was 21 working at a car wash in Whittier, where he has worked for approximately 10 years, 22 when immigration agents arrived. This was the third time that agents had raided the 23 carwash since June 9, 2025.

24 189. During this visit by agents, like with previous visits, agents did not 25 identify themselves. They did not show a warrant. They simply went from person to 26 person interrogating them about their identity and immigration status.

27 190. Agents questioned Plaintiff Hernandez Viramontes' co-worker, a U.S.
28 citizen, about his citizenship three separate times in one visit.

1 191. When agents got to Plaintiff Hernandez Viramontes, they asked him if 2 he was a citizen, and he replied yes and explained he was a dual citizen of the U.S.
3 and Mexico. They asked for an ID, which he provided. Agents then explained that 4 his ID wasn't enough and since he didn't have his passport, they were taking him.

5 192. Agents placed Plaintiff Hernandez Viramontes in a vehicle and 6 transported him away. During this time, Plaintiff Hernandez Viramontes did not 7 know if they were going to take him to a detention center.

8 193. Agents verified his citizenship and about 20 minutes later, brought him 9 back to the car wash, but not before his brother called his wife, who had become 10 deeply worried.

11 194. When agents brought Plaintiff Hernandez Viramontes back to the car 12 wash, they did not apologize.

13 195. Shortly after agents returned Plaintiff Hernandez Viramontes to the car 14 wash, yet another group of agents raided the carwash again.

15 196. Plaintiff Hernandez Viramontes is shaken by what happened and fears 16 being targeted again on the basis of his Latino appearance and accent.

17 Plaintiff Jason Brian Gavidia

18 197. In the afternoon of June 12, 2025, Plaintiff Gavidia, a U.S. citizen, was 19 at a tow yard in Los Angeles County that was visited by immigration agents 20 conducting a roving patrol.¹²³

21 198. Around 4:30 p.m., upon hearing someone say immigration agents may 22 be at the premises, Plaintiff Gavidia went outside to confirm this. At the time, his 23 clothes were dirty from working on his car.

24 199. On the sidewalk outside the gate, Plaintiff Gavidia saw a federal agent 25 between two cars step forward. Soon after, Plaintiff Gavidia saw several other 26 agents wearing similar vests with the words "Border Patrol Federal Agent." He also

1 noticed the agents were carrying handguns and at least two of the agents had a 2 military-style rifle.

3 200. As Plaintiff Gavidia attempted to head back inside the tow yard 4 premises, an agent said, “Stop right there.” At this point, Plaintiff Gavidia did not 5 feel that he could leave. The agent was masked.

6 201. While the agent approached Plaintiff Gavidia, another unmasked agent 7 ran towards him and asked if he was American. Plaintiff Gavidia told the agent that 8 he is American multiple times. The agent responded by asking, “What hospital were 9 you born in?” Plaintiff Gavidia calmly replied that he did not know. The agent 10 repeated the same question two more times, and each time Plaintiff Gavidia 11 provided the same answer. At that point, the agents forcefully pushed Plaintiff 12 Gavidia up against the metal gated fence, put his hands behind his back, and twisted 13 his arm. Plaintiff Gavidia had been on his phone, and the masked agent also took his 14 phone from his hand at that point.

15 202. Plaintiff Gavidia explained that the agents were hurting him and that he 16 was American. The unmasked agent asked a final time, “What hospital were you 17 born in?” Plaintiff Gavidia responded again that he did not know and said East L.A.
18 Plaintiff Gavidia then told the agents that he could show them his Real ID. The 19 agents had not asked to see Plaintiff Gavidia’s identification.

20 203. When Plaintiff Gavidia showed his Real ID to the agents, one of them 21 took it from him. It ultimately took about 20 minutes for Plaintiff Gavidia to get his 22 phone back. But the agents never returned Plaintiff Gavidia’s Real ID.

23 204. Plaintiff Gavidia’s interaction with the federal agents was one of the 24 worst experiences he has ever had. He is disturbed and deeply concerned about 25 being targeted again because of his race.

26 K. Harms to Organizational Plaintiffs and/or Their Members

27 205. Since they began on June 6, 2025, federal immigration raids have led to 28 the arrest of over 1,500 people and counting, many of whom have been stopped

1 without reasonable suspicion, and/or arrested without probable cause. For those who 2 have been arrested, many have been denied the right to consult with their attorneys, 3 and have been held under conditions with insufficient food, shelter, clothing, and 4 medical care. These conditions, of both arrests and detentions, have caused profound 5 harm to individuals and families, and destabilized entire communities. The chilling 6 effect extends beyond directly impacted individuals. For example, the Mayor of 7 Pasadena described seeing a “huge drop in attendance at local community 8 programs,” once “vibrant neighborhoods” now “eerily quiet” and business owners 9 “concerned that their workers and customers alike are too afraid to show up.”¹²⁴

10 206. These harms have extended to organizational Plaintiffs and/or their 11 members.

12 Plaintiff Los Angeles Worker Center Network (LAWCN)

13 207. LAWCN is a regional organization made up of eight worker centers 14 and labor organizations that work together to build power and develop worker 15 leadership organizing with Black, immigrant, and refugee workers and other 16 workers of color in the Los Angeles region. LAWCN’s member organizations work 17 to improve conditions in low-wage industries, including car wash, garment, home 18 care, restaurant, retail, warehouse, and other low-wage sectors. LAWCN’s members 19 each have at least one representative on its Executive Committee, and the 20 Committee has regular standing meetings in which the member organizations 21 provide input on LAWCN’s strategic planning and goals, including by having the 22 voting members cast votes on key strategic questions.

23 208. LAWCN improves conditions for low-wage workers through capacity 24 building, organizing, services, and policy advocacy at the city, county, and state 25 level. In pursuing LAWCN’s mission to build the power and grow the capacity of 1 local worker centers to organize and advocate for low-wage workers, LAWCN has a 2 long term and sustained focus on issues related to immigration and immigrant 3 workers. LAWCN has engaged in policy reform and advocacy aimed at increasing 4 immigrant workers' access to governmental services. Additionally, through its 5 capacity-building efforts, LAWCN's work supports immigrant justice by improving 6 the conditions and dignity of immigrant workers in Southern California.

7 209. LAWCN brings this suit on behalf of its member organizations, worker 8 centers that organize and advocate for low-wage workers in the greater Los Angeles 9 region. At least one of LAWCN's member organizations, CLEAN Carwash Worker 10 Center (CLEAN), has been harmed by the ongoing raids in Southern California.
11 CLEAN is a grassroots worker center that fights for the self-determination of 12 immigrant and working-class people by empowering carwash workers to make 13 lasting changes in the carwash industry and their communities.

14 210. CLEAN has approximately 1,800 members who are carwash workers 15 from the greater Los Angeles area. Its members are predominantly Latino and many 16 are immigrants or the children of immigrants. CLEAN has three tiers of membership 17 available to workers, depending on how much each member wishes to participate in 18 CLEAN's organizing work. CLEAN's members help set the priorities for the 19 organization. It holds standing membership meetings during which members 20 provide feedback and input into CLEAN's goals and work.

21 211. CLEAN's mission includes fighting for the self-determination of 22 immigrants. A consistent focus of CLEAN's work is to provide its members access 23 to immigration-related support and resources. Some of this work involves providing 24 training and support to members about immigration issues. CLEAN has also 25 organized programming and events, including attending rallies and events, in 26 support of immigration reform.

28

1 212. Carwashes have been a consistent and ongoing target of immigration 2 agents during the course of the raids—at least two dozen have been raided so far.¹²⁵ 3 Some carwashes have closed because so many workers have either been detained or 4 fear future raids.¹²⁶

5 213. Dozens of CLEAN’s members have been detained by immigration
6 agents while at work. At least one identifiable CLEAN member, Jesus Aristeo Cruz 7 Utiz, has been subjected to Defendants’ unlawful stop and arrest practices.

8 214. Many CLEAN members, regardless of the stability or permanence of 9 their immigration status, fear that immigration agents will subject them to unlawful 10 stops and arrests. They are terrified that masked and unidentifiable immigration 11 agents will invade their workplaces without a warrant, grab them, handcuff them, 12 and take them away. They are fearful of being racially profiled and stopped by 13 immigration agents while in public or at their places of employment.

14 Plaintiff United Farm Workers (UFW)

15 215. Founded in 1962 by Cesar Chavez, Dolores Huerta, Larry Itliong and 16 other labor leaders, UFW is the largest farm worker union in the country. UFW’s 17 mission is to improve the lives, wages, and working conditions of agricultural 18 workers and their families. UFW is dedicated to the cause of eliminating 19 discrimination against farm workers, immigrants, people of color, and any other 20 groups that have been the target of unfair or unlawful treatment. As part of this 21 work, UFW is a national leader in the movement for immigration reform and 22 immigrants’ rights.

23 216. UFW has approximately 10,000 members. California is home to more 24 UFW members than any other state, with members in counties across the Central

1 District of California, such as Los Angeles County, Orange County, Riverside 2 County, Ventura County, and San Bernardino County. UFW membership is 3 voluntary and consists of various categories of members. Among these, contributing 4 or associate members are individuals who make a monthly or annual contribution of 5 a designated amount to UFW. Dues-paying members are those who benefit from a 6 UFW collective bargaining agreement.

7 217. UFW members play an important role in deciding what activities UFW 8 engages in as an organization. At the UFW’s quadrennial Constitutional 9 Convention, members introduce and vote on motions to govern and guide the 10 union’s work, and to elect the Union Executive Board. On an ongoing basis, UFW 11 members respond to surveys, provide feedback, and participate in advisory meetings 12 (known as “consejo de base” in Spanish) to actively participate in the Union’s 13 decisions. UFW has created various programs in response to members’ feedback 14 and requests.

15 218. UFW membership comes with a variety of benefits. Dues-paying 16 members receive protections from collective bargaining in which UFW engages on 17 their behalf. Contributing or associate members (also called “direct” members) 18 receive UFW photographic identification, accidental life insurance of $4,000, access 19 to UFW discounts with private businesses, and other benefits. For services that 20 prioritize agricultural workers, UFW direct membership establishes membership.

21 219. UFW brings this action on behalf of its members. UFW’s members 22 have been harmed by the ongoing immigration raids in Southern California and fear 23 being subjected to unlawful stops, arrests, and detention practices in the future. At 24 least one UFW member—Angel—has been subjected to Defendants’ stop and arrest 25 practices.

26
27
28

1 220. Despite UFW’s lawsuit against DHS and the Border Patrol, filed on 2 February 26, 2025,¹²⁷ these concerns remain today.

3 221. Many UFW members, regardless of the stability or permanence of their 4 immigration status, fear that immigration agents will continue to subject farm 5 workers and day laborers to unlawful immigration stops and arrests, especially those 6 who appear non-white. These members face irreparable harm from Defendants’ 7 unlawful practices.

8 Plaintiff the Coalition for Humane Immigrant Rights (CHIRLA)

9 222. CHIRLA was founded in 1986, and its mission is to advance the human 10 and civil rights of immigrants and refugees. CHIRLA ensures immigrant 11 communities are fully integrated into our society with full rights and access to 12 resources.

13 223. As a membership organization, CHIRLA has approximately 50,000 14 members across California, including both U.S. citizens and noncitizens of varying 15 immigration status. CHIRLA has members in every county in this District. Many of 16 CHIRLA members are day laborers, car wash workers, and street vendors.
17 CHIRLA’s membership is predominantly Latino.

18 224. CHIRLA is the largest statewide immigrant rights organization in 19 California, with over 185 staff members who provide services to thousands of 20 Californians each year. Its legal department has assisted approximately 30,000
21 people with direct services and legal education, including numerous CHIRLA 22 members.

23 225. Some of CHIRLA’s members pay dues to the organization, and those 24 dues help fund the organization’s operations. Other CHIRLA members have become 25 members by virtue of their participation in the organization’s meetings, programs, 26 and policy campaigns.

27 _____
28 ¹²⁷ Complaint, UFW v. Noem, No. 1:25-cv-00246 JLT CDB (E.D. Cal. Feb. 26, 2025), https://www.aclusocal.org/sites/default/files/001_complaint.pdf.

1 226. CHIRLA’s members regularly meet with each other in regional 2 committees. Committee meetings can range from a small handful of people to 3 hundreds. In addition, CHIRLA’s student members hold regional statewide 4 conference calls and meetings throughout the year. During these meetings, 5 CHIRLA’s members plan local advocacy campaigns, share information, and discuss 6 issues that affect them, their families, and their local communities. Information from 7 these meetings is reported to CHIRLA’s leadership and used to guide CHIRLA’s 8 programmatic agenda.

9 227. CHIRLA also holds quarterly membership retreats at which coreleaders 10 discuss issues they are seeing in their communities and set priorities for the 11 organization.

12 228. CHIRLA also coordinates the Los Angeles Rapid Response Network
13 (LARRN) and educates its membership as well as the broader community through 14 know your rights programming, workshops, social media, and educational literature 15 about a variety of social services and benefits, including immigration law, financial 16 literacy, workers’ rights, and civic engagement. CHIRLA is often a first point of 17 contact for individuals seeking direct assistance and accurate information about 18 policy changes impacting immigrants.

19 229. CHIRLA brings this action on behalf of its members who reasonably 20 fear being subject to the stop and arrest practices challenged in this case and 21 subsequent detention at B-18. Since immigration authorities began arresting and 22 detaining predominately Latino people across Southern California, including in 23 places where CHIRLA members live and go, they have become terrified that they 24 too will be taken from their families and communities. Indeed, some CHIRLA 25 members, including those with legal status, have begun carrying around their 26 passports, have refrained from being at bus stops, and have reduced how much they 27 go out in public because they are afraid of being stopped and detained unlawfully.

28

1 230. As a result of Defendants’ actions, CHIRLA’s mission to serve the 2 immigrant community, including through the provision of legal advice and services, 3 is being frustrated. CHIRLA’s attorneys and representatives have attempted to 4 communicate with individuals at B-18, were denied access, and were thwarted in 5 their efforts to offer legal advice to even those detainees they saw at a distance as 6 government officials used car horns to drown them out. Defendants’ actions are also 7 thwarting CHIRLA’s work to coordinate the LARRN as other attorneys and 8 representatives summoned by CHIRLA to B-18 have been similarly denied access.
9 Plaintiff Immigrant Defenders Law Center (ImmDef)

10 231. ImmDef was founded in 2015 with the mission of protecting the due 11 process rights of immigrants facing deportation. At its inception, it sought to achieve 12 this goal through implementation of the universal representation model—i.e., 13 ensuring that every immigrant appearing before the immigration court was 14 represented by an attorney. ImmDef is now the largest removal defense nonprofit 15 organization in Southern California, providing full-scale deportation defense, legal 16 representation, legal education, and social services to approximately 30,150 detained 17 and non-detained children and adults annually.

18 232. ImmDef’s Welcoming Project provides “Know Your Rights” trainings 19 throughout ImmDef’s service area, which includes the counties of Los Angeles, 20 Orange, Kern, Riverside, San Bernardino, and San Diego. These trainings aim to 21 educate immigrant community members about the immigration system and about 22 their due process and civil rights.

23 233. ImmDef’s Rapid Response team is also part of LARRN, with 24 CHIRLA, and monitors a hotline and responds to notifications about individuals 25 detained in enforcement actions. When possible, ImmDef takes referrals to represent 26 detained individuals in their removal proceedings within ImmDef’s service area. If 27 ImmDef is unable to represent an individual referred through LARRN, ImmDef 28 attempts to connect that individual with pro bono representation.

1 234. ImmDef’s attorneys and representatives have been denied access to 2 people in detention, including those being held at B-18. As a result of Defendants’ 3 actions, ImmDef’s mission to serve the immigrant community, including through 4 the provision of legal advice and services, is being fundamentally frustrated.

5 L. Defendants’ Illegal Conduct Will Continue if Not Enjoined

6 235. The federal government has repeatedly made clear its intent to continue 7 its operations and unlawful stops, arrests, and detentions. Defendants have been 8 candid about their determination to continue pursuing these unlawful policies and 9 practices, unless this Court enjoins them from doing so.

10 236. Indeed, federal officials have been open about the ongoing and 11 expanding nature of these unlawful immigration raids.

12 237. White House official Tom Homan maligned Los Angeles as a 13 sanctuary city and vowed, “We’re going to send a whole boatload of agents. . . .
14 We’re going to swamp the city.”¹²⁸ He has stated, “This operation is not going to 15 end,”¹²⁹ and, “Every day in LA we’re going to enforce immigration law. I don’t care 16 if they like it or not.”¹³⁰ Kristi Noem has also said, “We’re going to stay here and 17 build our operations until we make sure that we liberate the city of Los Angeles.”¹³¹ 18 Noem told agents “your performance will be judged every day by how many arrests

3 238. While immigration enforcement may be done lawfully, these 4 statements demonstrate a commitment to continue operations at any cost, including 5 at the expense of individuals’ constitutional and legal rights. Plaintiffs have already 6 been harmed, and they face a reasonable likelihood of continuing harm, as a result 7 of Defendants’ unlawful policies and practices described herein. Plaintiffs have no 8 plain, adequate, or complete remedy at law to address the wrongs described herein.
9 Injunctive and declaratory relief is necessary to redress their ongoing injuries.

10 CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

11 239. The Stop/Arrest Plaintiffs bring this action on behalf of themselves, and 12 in the case of the organizational Stop/Arrest Plaintiffs, their members. In addition, 13 the Stop/Arrest Plaintiffs bring this action under Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 14 23(a) and (b)(2), on behalf of classes of persons similarly situated to themselves and 15 their members. The Stop/Arrest Plaintiffs seek to represent the following classes of 16 individuals who have been or will be subjected to several of the unlawful practices 17 this lawsuit challenges: suspicionless stops; discriminatory treatment based on 18 race/ethnicity; unreasonable manner of stops; warrantless arrests without evaluations 19 of flight risk; and the failure to identify authority and the reason for arrest.

20 The Suspicionless Stop Class

21 240. The Stop/Arrest Plaintiffs seek to represent a class under Federal Rules 22 of Civil Procedure 23(b)(2) consisting of:

23 All persons who, since June 6, 2025, have been or will be subjected to a 24 detentive stop by federal agents in this District without a pre-stop, 25 individualized assessment of reasonable suspicion concerning whether

1 the person (1) is engaged in an offense against the United States or (2) 2 is a noncitizen unlawfully in the United States.

3 241. Numerosity. The proposed class meets the numerosity requirements of 4 Rule 23(a)(1) because it consists of a large number of similarly situated individuals 5 located within this District, such that joinder of all members of the class is 6 impracticable. Although the number of individuals who have been or will be subject 7 to unconstitutional detentive stops by federal agents is not known with precision, 8 class members number in the thousands. Since June 6, 2025, federal agents have 9 arrested more than 1,500 people within the District, and likely conducted 10 unconstitutional detentive stops on many more.

11 242. Common Questions of Law and Fact. The proposed class meets the 12 commonality requirements of Rule 23(a)(2) because all members of the proposed 13 class have been or will be subjected to the same unconstitutional practices. Thus, 14 there are numerous questions of law and fact common to the proposed class, which 15 predominate over any individual questions, including:

16 (a) Whether Defendants have a policy, pattern, or practice of conducting 17 stops without regard to whether reasonable suspicion exists that the person (1) 18 is engaged in an offense against the United States or (2) is a noncitizen 19 unlawfully in the United States; and

20 (b) Whether Defendants' policy, pattern, or practice of conducting stops 21 without regard to whether reasonable suspicion exists that the person (1) is 22 engaged in an offense against the United States or (2) is a noncitizen 23 unlawfully in the United States violates the Fourth Amendment or applicable 24 regulations.

25 The Discriminatory Treatment Classes

26 243. The Stop/Arrest Plaintiffs also seek to represent two classes of 27 individuals who have been subject to racial and/or ethnic discrimination consisting 28 of:

1 All persons in this District who, since June 6, 2025, have been or will 2 be subject to a detentive stop by federal agents at least in part because 3 of their apparent Latino race, color and/or ethnicity; and

4 All persons in this District who, since June 6, 2025, have been or will 5 be subject to discriminatory treatment during immigration enforcement 6 operations—including through investigating, questioning, arresting 7 and/or subjecting individuals to different, burdensome, stigmatizing, 8 and/or injurious treatment—at least in part because of their apparent 9 Latino race, color and/or ethnicity.

10 244. Numerosity: The proposed classes meet the numerosity requirements of 11 Rule 23(a)(1) because they consist of a large number of similarly situated 12 individuals located within the District, such that joinder of all members of the class 13 is impracticable. Although the number of individuals who have been or will be 14 subject to Defendants’ policies of racial discrimination in this District is not known 15 with precision, class members number in the thousands. Since June 6, 2025, federal 16 agents have relied on apparent ethnicity in conducting their immigration 17 enforcement in this District, and continue to investigate, stop, and arrest individuals 18 based on apparent Latino ethnicity.

19 245. Common Questions of Law and Fact: The proposed classes meet the 20 commonality requirements of Rule 23(a)(2) because all members of the proposed 21 classes have been or will be subjected to the same unconstitutional practices. Thus, 22 there are numerous questions of law and fact common to the proposed class, which 23 predominate over any individual question, including:

- 24 (a) Whether Defendants have a policy and practice of (1) stopping 25 individuals at least in part on the basis of apparent Latino ethnicity or of (2) 26 intentionally discriminating against individuals based on apparent Latino 27 ethnicity while conducting immigration operations in this District; and 28

1 (b) Whether such policies violate the equal protection principles enshrined in 2 the Fifth Amendment’s Due Process Clause.

3 The Unreasonable Manner of Seizure Class

4 246. The Stop/Arrest Plaintiffs also seek to represent a class under Federal 5 Rules of Civil Procedure 23(b)(2) consisting of:

6 All persons who, since June 6, 2025, have been or will be subjected to a 7 detentive stop by federal agents or officers in this District executed by 8 using highly intrusive tactics, including but not limited to handcuffing, 9 confinement, relocation, and prolonged detention, without regard to 10 whether the circumstances of the stop specifically justify such tactics.

11 247. Numerosity. The proposed class meets the numerosity requirements of 12 Rule 23(a)(1) because it consists of a large number of similarly situated individuals 13 located within this District, such that joinder of all members of the class is 14 impracticable. Although the number of individuals who have been or will be 15 subjected to highly intrusive stops without an assessment of individual 16 circumstances of such stops is not known with precision, class members number in 17 the thousands. Federal agents have arrested thousands of people within the District 18 and likely have conducted such stops on many more.

19 248. Common Questions of Law and Fact. The proposed class meets the 20 commonality requirements of Rule 23(a)(2) because all members of the proposed 21 class have been or will be subjected to the same unconstitutional practices. Thus, 22 there are numerous questions of law and fact common to the proposed class, which 23 predominate over any individual questions, including:

24 (a) Whether Defendants maintain a policy, pattern, or practice of employing 25 highly intrusive tactics “normally associated with arrests” during encounters 26 Defendants purport to be detentive stops;

27 (b) Whether Defendants’ policy, pattern, or practice of handcuffing 28 individuals (including those already fully compliant), relocating, and

1 detaining them for extended periods imposes restraints on liberty to a degree 2 that converts purported stops into de facto arrests; and 3 (c) Whether Defendants’ policy, pattern, or practice of effectuating 4 investigatory stops in a systematically highly intrusive manner violates the 5 Fourth Amendment’s prohibition against unreasonable seizures.

6 The Warrantless Arrest Class

7 249. The organizational Stop/Arrest Plaintiffs—LAWCN, UFW, and 8 CHIRLA—also seek to represent a class consisting of:

9 All persons, since June 6, 2025, who have been arrested or will be 10 arrested in this District by federal agents without a warrant and without 11 a pre-arrest, individualized assessment of probable cause that the 12 person poses a flight risk.

13 250. Numerosity. The proposed class meets the numerosity requirements of 14 Rule 23(a)(1) because it consists of a large number of similarly situated individuals 15 located within this District, such that joinder of all members of the class is 16 impracticable. Although the number of individuals who have been or will be subject 17 to unlawful warrantless arrests by Defendants is not known with precision, class 18 members number in the thousands. Since June 6, 2025, federal agents have arrested 19 more than 1,500 people within the District, with no indications of possessing a 20 warrant or conducting any sort of pre-arrest, individualized assessment of probable 21 cause that the person poses a flight risk.

22 251. Common Questions of Law and Fact. The proposed class meets the 23 commonality requirements of Rule 23(a)(2) because all members of the proposed 24 class have been or will be subjected to the same unconstitutional practices. Thus, 25 there are numerous questions of law and fact common to the proposed class, which 26 predominate over any individual questions, including:

1 (a) Whether Defendants have a policy, pattern, or practice of conducting 2 warrantless arrests without probable cause that an individual is likely to 3 escape before a warrant can be obtained for the arrest;

4 (b) Whether Defendants’ policy, pattern, or practice of conducting stops
5 without probable cause that an individual is likely to escape before a warrant 6 can be obtained for the arrest violates 8 U.S.C. § 1357(a)(2); and

7 (c) Whether Defendants’ policy, pattern, or practice of conducting stops 8 without probable cause that an individual is likely to escape before a warrant 9 can be obtained for the arrest violates 8 C.F.R. § 287.8(c)(2)(ii).

10 The Failure to Identify Class

11 252. The organizational Stop/Arrest Plaintiffs—LAWCN, UFW, and 12 CHIRLA—also seek to represent a class consisting of:

13 All persons who, since June 6, 2025, have been arrested or will be 14 arrested in this District by federal agents, where agents (1) fail to 15 identify as an immigration officer who is authorized to execute an 16 arrest, and/or (2) fail to state that person is under arrest and the reason 17 for arrest, after it is practical and safe to do so.

18 253. Numerosity. The proposed class meets the numerosity requirements of 19 Rule 23(a)(1) because it consists of a large number of similarly situated individuals 20 located within this District, such that joinder of all members of the class is 21 impracticable. Although the number of individuals who have been or will be subject 22 to unlawful arrests in which agents failed to identify themselves in the manner 23 required by law is not known with precision, class members number in the 24 thousands. Since June 6, 2025, federal agents have arrested more than 1,500 people 25 within the District, and it has been widely reported that Defendants do not generally 26 identify themselves during these arrests.

27 254. Common Questions of Law and Fact. The proposed class meets the 28 commonality requirements of Rule 23(a)(2) because all members of the proposed

1 class have been or will be subjected to the same unconstitutional practices. Thus,
2 there are numerous questions of law and fact common to the proposed class, which 3 predominate over any individual questions, including:

4 (a) Whether Defendants have a policy, pattern, or practice of (1) failing to 5 (1) identify as an immigration officer who is authorized to execute an arrest, 6 or (2) failing to state that person is under arrest and the reason for arrest, after 7 it is practical and safe to do so; and 8 (b) Whether Defendants' policy, pattern, or practice of (1) failing to 9 identify as an immigration officer who is authorized to execute an arrest, or 10 (2) failing to state that person is under arrest and the reason for arrest, after it 11 is practical and safe to do so violates 8 C.F.R. § 287.8(c)(2)(iii).

12 Allegations Common to All Classes

13 255. The proposed classes satisfy the requirements of Federal Rule of Civil 14 Procedure 23(a)(1) because they are sufficiently numerous so as to make joinder 15 impracticable.

16 256. Joinder is also impractical because the proposed class includes 17 individuals who will be subject to Defendants' unlawful practices in the future and 18 therefore cannot be joined.

19 257. Typicality. The proposed classes further meet the typicality requirement 20 of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a)(3). Plaintiffs' legal claims are typical to all 21 members of the proposed classes. Plaintiffs have no interests separate from those of 22 the classes they seek to represent, and seek no relief other than the relief sought on 23 behalf of each class. Defendants have acted and intend to act in a manner adverse to 24 the rights of the Suspicionless Stops Class, the Discriminatory Treatment Classes, 25 the Unreasonable Manner of Seizure Class, the Failure to Identify Class, and the 26 Warrantless Arrest Class, making final injunctive and declaratory relief appropriate 27 with regard to each class as a whole.

6 (quotation omitted). “‘Reasonable suspicion’ is no different.” Id.

7 265. Defendants have a policy, pattern, and practice of stopping individuals 8 without regard to reasonable suspicion that they are unlawfully in the United States.

9 266. As a part of Defendants’ policy, pattern, and practice, when conducting 10 stops, Defendants engage in a show of force so overwhelming that a reasonable 11 person would not feel free to leave. As a matter of policy, pattern, and practice, 12 Defendants do not evaluate the need for force or tailor the force they use to the 13 circumstances of individual stops and arrests.

14 267. Defendants’ policy, pattern, and practice violates the Fourth
15 Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

1 Defendants have a policy, pattern, and practice of turning away attorneys at the door

15 291. Defendants have allowed conditions to deteriorate at B-18 to an extent 16 that they amount to punishment. They have failed to provide basic necessities like 17 food, water, adequate hygiene facilities, and medical care. Defendants have also 18 violated detainees’ constitutional right to due process by subjecting them to 19 overcrowding and failing to provide adequate sleeping accommodations at B-18.
20 Defendants’ ongoing violations of the Fifth Amendment directly harm CHIRLA and 21 ImmDef’s missions to provide legal services and assistance to community members, 22 and harm CHIRLA members who will be subject to detentions at B-18 by depriving

3 293. The Fourteenth Amendment’s Equal Protection Clause prohibits states

14 295. Defendants, acting under color of federal law, have adopted and 15 continue to engage in officially sanctioned policies and practices of racially and 16 ethnically discriminatory treatment of individuals they perceive to be Latino, 17 without regard to citizenship or immigration status, in violation of the Constitution.

18 296. By purposefully and systematically stopping individuals based on 19 apparent race, color, and/or ethnicity, and/or selecting locations to raid, 20 investigating, questioning, arresting and/or subjecting individuals to different, 21 burdensome, stigmatizing and/or injurious treatment because of their apparent race, 22 color and/or ethnicity, Defendants deprive Plaintiffs and members of the putative 23 class of the equal protection of the law within the meaning of the Fifth Amendment 24 to the U.S. Constitution.

25 297. As a direct, proximate result of Defendants’ wrongful conduct, 26 Plaintiffs and putative class members continue to suffer significant and substantial 27 harm.

28

1 304. Defendants’ tactics reflect Defendants’ policies and operational 2 planning, which authorize, encourage, tolerate, and/or fail to correct the routine use 3 of such tactics in disregard of the Fourth Amendment’s proportionality principle.

4 305. By executing detentive stops in a highly intrusive manner that exceeds 5 what is permitted under Terry for a stop based on reasonable suspicion, Defendants 6 deprive Plaintiffs and putative class members of their constitutional right to be free 7 from unreasonable seizures as guaranteed by the Fourth Amendment to the United 8 States Constitution.

9 306. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants’ wrongful conduct, 10 Plaintiffs and putative class members continue to suffer significant and substantial 11 harm.

12 307. Defendants’ policy, pattern, and practice violates the Fourth
13 Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

14 PRAYER FOR RELIEF

15 WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray that this Court grant the following relief:

- 16 (1) Assume jurisdiction over this matter;
- 17 (2) Certify this action as a class action pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil 18 Procedure 23(b)(2);
- 19 (3) Appoint the counsel for Stop/Arrest Plaintiffs as class counsel pursuant 20 to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(g);
- 21 (4) Declare that Defendants’ policy, pattern, and practice of conducting 22 stops without reasonable suspicion violate the Fourth Amendment of 23 the United States Constitution;
- 24 (5) Declare that Defendants’ policy, pattern, and practice of discriminating 25 on the basis of Latino ethnicity in conducting stops and throughout 26 their immigration operations violates the Fifth Amendment of the 27 United States Constitution;
- 28

- 1 (6) Declare that Defendants’ policy, pattern, and practice of highly 2 intrusive stops violates the Fourth Amendment of the United States
3 Constitution;
- 4 (7) Declare that Defendants’ policy, pattern, and practice of making 5 warrantless arrests without individualized flight risk determinations 6 violate 8 U.S.C. § 1357(a)(2); 8 C.F.R. § 287.8(c)(2)(ii); and the APA;
- 7 (8) Declare that Defendants’ policy, pattern, and practice of failing to 8 identify the authority and reasons for arrests violate 8 C.F.R.
9 § 287.8(c)(2)(iii); and the APA;
- 10 (9) Declare that Defendants’ denial of access to counsel violates the Due 11 Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment of the United States
12 Constitution;
- 13 (10) Declare that Defendants’ policy and practice of denying access to 14 counsel violate the rights of the Access/Detention Plaintiffs under 8 15 U.S.C. § 1362 and the APA;
- 16 (11) Declare that the conditions of confinement imposed by Defendants at 17 B-18 violate the Fifth Amendment of the United States Constitution;
- 18 (12) Issue a preliminary and permanent injunction enjoining further 19 violations of Plaintiffs’ rights;
- 20 (13) Vacate Defendants’ unlawful policies and practices that violate 21 statutory and regulatory law under the APA;
- 22 (14) Award reasonable attorneys’ fees, costs, and other disbursements 23 permitted under the Equal Access to Justice Act, 28 U.S.C. § 2412, and 24 any other applicable statute, and;
- 25 (15) Order any and all such other relief as the Court deems just, equitable, 26 and proper.
